The Heart Of Our Nation Always Beats In The Home

By Leighton C. Taylor

Yes, the heart of our nation beats in the home, and when that heart fails America's hopes and dreams fall with it. Someone has said that every good thing can be started, and every bad thing stopped, at the Nation's cradles. And what is started and what is stopped at this fountain of a people's life depends largely on the character of the nation's homes.

Grace Noll Crowell, Iowa-born American poetess and writer, realized this when she wrote: "So long as there are homes where fires burn.

And there is bread;

So long as there are homes where lamps are lit.

And prayers are said;

If love and loyalty and faith be found

Across these sills,

A stricken nation can recover from its gravest ills.

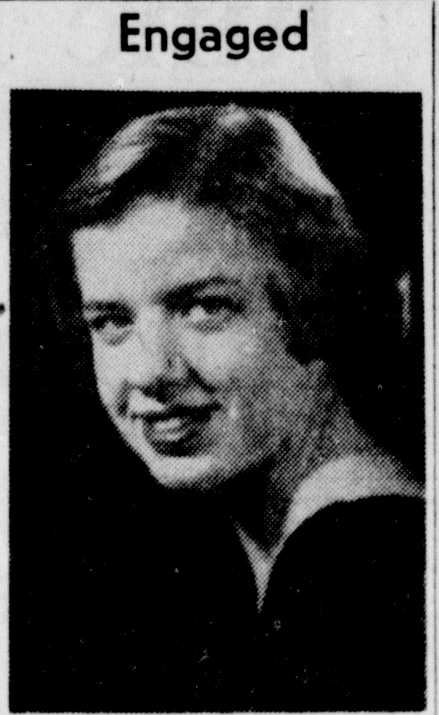

Although a people falter in the dark,

And nations grope,

With God Himself back of these little homes,

We still can hope."

"VISITING DAY" PLANS MADE BY HOME AUXILIARY

Further plans for the annual "Visiting Day," June 27, at the Adams County Home were outlined at a meeting of the auxiliary of the home held there Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Nevin Frantz, president of the auxiliary, expressed the hope that more than 1,000 countians will attend the annual program set aside to entertain the guests at the home and provide the general public with an opportunity to visit the home, meet the inmates and see what the county's home looks like. Last year more than 500 were present off the event.

The program will be held this year on Saturday, June 27, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 8 o'clock that evening.

Plan Band Concert

Entertainment, including a concert by the Biglerville High School band, is scheduled. There will be refreshments on sale. One table will be devoted to sale of articles made by the residents of the county home themselves. While money raised by the sale of articles from the other counters will go into the auxiliary treasury to be used later for the county home guests, the money raised by the sale of the articles made by the guests will go directly to the persons making the articles. For many, it is the only money they can obtain during the year.

Gifts of food, cakes, pies, candy, needlework, etc., were being sought by the auxiliary to be sold at the "Visiting Day" program. Persons wishing to make such donations should contact Mrs. Lloyd Kleinfelter, or take the donations to the county home any time after 9 a.m. on June 27.

Arrangements were being made for members of a number of organizations to man the booths.

Countians Asked To Entertain 824 Soldiers At Evening Meal After Fourth Of July Parade

A USO committee is seeking several hundred countians who will entertain one or more soldiers as their guests at dinner either at their homes or on picnics on the evening of July 4.

The committee, made up of representatives of a number of organizations, met Thursday evening at the YWCA to formulate plans to serve a meal to 824 officers and enlisted men who will march in the Fourth of July parade here.

The soldiers will be men stationed at Indiantown Gap who are members of units which are the modern-day descendants of military outfits which fought in the Battle of Gettysburg.

Because Indiantown Gap is closing and the units are being scattered throughout the country, "this will be in the nature of a farewell party given by the people of Gettysburg and Adams County to the soldiers when they come here to march in the parade," Dean W. E. Tilberg said.

Deadline Is June 25

Those wishing to provide a meal are asked to sign for as many soldiers as they wish to entertain "as soon as possible, and not later than June 25," Dr. Tilberg said. They will meet the soldiers at or near the Recreation Field at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, July 4, take them to their homes for dinner, or on a picnic, and return them to the Recreation Field by 9 o'clock that night.

Forms to be filled out will be available, starting Saturday, at the Information Booth on Lincoln Square, at the YWCA and Chamber of Commerce office, in the various clubs of the town, at various organizations and at churches in town Sunday morning.

South Koreans Chant, March, Weep In Protest Of Truce Plan As U.N., Red Officers Work On

SEOUL (AP)—South Koreans chanting, marched and wept through their fourth straight day of anti-truce demonstrations today as Allied and Red staff officers worked in secret on the last details of an armistice that appears almost a certainty.

The stubborn South Korean nation and its unbending President, Syngman Rhee—gave no outward sign of changing the violent opposition to a ceasefire that would leave the battered peninsula divided politically.

However, a truce appears only a matter of days away—the time it takes the staff officers to finish the final document in morning and afternoon sessions at Panmunjom.

U. N. Going Ahead

The U. N. Command apparently is proceeding undaunted with its armistice plans in the belief that South Korea won't make good its threat to reject the truce and fight the Reds alone.

Two staff officer groups from each side have been meeting at Panmunjom since the historic prisoner of war exchange agreement was signed Monday.

SAYS HE GOT DOUBLE TALK FROM THE ARMY

By J. FRANK TRABLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) complained today the Army gave him "double talk" in explaining why a gas mask contract was awarded to a New England plant instead of to one in Pennsylvania.

Kelley disclosed previously he had asked Army Secretary Stevens for an explanation of why the contract went to the Fall River, Mass. plant of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., in stead of to the Pennsylvania Rubber Co., at Jeannette, Pa. Pennsylvania's bid, Kelley said, was $100,000 lower.

Kelley said today he had received a reply from one of Stevens' secretaries "which evaded the questions entirely."

"Not Satisfied" "Apparently," he said, "the Army feels I will be satisfied with this double talk. I can assure them that I will not be and that I shall insist upon learning all the details about this questionable action which threatens the jobs of 500 men in my district."

Kelley said he has sent another telegram to Stevens which said that "further delay in supplying this information can only lead to the conclusion that the Army is unwilling to disclose the full facts involved."

He added that "the letter signed by your assistant is entirely unsatisfactory and fails to alleviate suspicion that this contract was not handled in the usual manner."

Kelley said it is the Army's contention that the Fall River bid was accepted at a time when that area had a higher labor surplus rating than Jeannette and therefore was entitled to special consideration.

Artist-Acrobat To Display Works Here

A vaudeville entertainer who has turned artist, and took up acrobatics to pay for his training, will be among the artists whose work will be shown in the art show here during the Pennsylvania Dutch Fete June 26, 27 and 28. The show will be held in the library of the American Legion building, Baltimore St.

Richard Charles Lobs, Philadelphia, whose profession now is the painting of portraits and landscapes, was first a gymnast, taking part in AAU competition from Germantown, and won some national prominence with his ability to perform a front lever supported by only two fingers. For that feat he appeared in the "Believe It Or Not" cartoon of Robert Ripley.

He became an entertainer, in a comedy acrobatic manner, before World War II. While serving with the Marine Corps he became interested in art and decided to learn how to paint.

Discharged from service he studied art under Cameron Burnside, internationally known portrait painter, and to finance his art training took part in circus, television and stage acrobatic acts. He appeared on such television shows as those of Kate Smith, Steve Allen and Robert Q. Lewis.

Each showing will start at 8:45 p.m. Projection of the film, an hour and 40 minutes in length, will be done through the use of special equipment mounted in a large truck van. The presentation is in connection with the Hanover Jaycee's "Back to Church" crusade.

Considerable expense has been incurred by the Junior Chamber. Through the cooperation of banks, business places and others more than 100,000 free tickets are being distributed. They may be obtained by adults from stores or business places displaying posters. Children will be admitted without tickets.

New Oxford Bible School To Close

One hundred eleven children were enrolled in the school, and certificates will be given to those who attended seven out of the ten sessions and did creditable work.

Ike Swats Political Opposition In Talk To South Dakota GOP

CUSTER STATE PARK, S. D. — President Eisenhower says "creeping socialism, struck at the United States during the last 20 years of Democratic administration" and that the nation runs a grave risk "if that group takes over again."

The President swatted the political opposition in an informal talk last night to about 500 South Dakota Republican leaders.

He addressed the leaders a few hours after arriving here from nearby Mt. Rushmore where he told another GOP rally his administration has made a "good beginning toward a regime serving the interests and needs of all our citizens."

Flying To New Hampshire Eisenhower is staying at the state game lodge in the Black Hills, the same quarters Calvin Coolidge occupied when he vacationed in the area as president in 1927.

Interrupting his speaking tour of five states, Eisenhower will remain here until Saturday morning, then fly to Hanover, N. H. On Sunday he will receive an honorary degree from Dartmouth College, and speak later in the day at ceremonies dedicating Sagamore Hill, the home of President Theodore Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. Y.

On his schedule Friday was only one thing—trout fishing. He had planned to get in a round of golf but decided to pass it up, aides said, because there is no course close by.

May Be "Last Change" Although Eisenhower said he was tired when he arrived here after two speeches Thursday, he fished for trout for two hours before dinner. He caught five, kept two of the larger ones and snatched his finger slightly on a fishhook.

After dinner the President went down the road to Calvin Coolidge Inn to talk to South Dakota GOP leaders.

Striking a theme he also sounded at Mt. Rushmore, the President called for hard work in the party to keep it in power after 20 years on the outside.

As he did so often during the campaign, Eisenhower called for a middle of the road course.

"avoiding indifference on the one hand and socialism on the other."

Then, sounding a new note, he declared:

"If the group takes over again that wants socialism, we very very gravely run the risk that we've had our last chance. We wouldn't easily recover."

ELKS TO HOLD

(Continued from Page 1) Gettysburg, call upon the citizens of our Borough to join with the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks at their home on York St., on Sunday, June 14 in a fitting tribute to the flag of the United States of America, and urge the churches of our borough to fittingly mark the day at their services that day.

"Done this 12th day of June, 1953." After the rendition of several selections in front of the Elks home, the band will join with lodge officers for the presentation of the ritualistic program in the lodge room. The color guards of the Albert J. Lentz post American Legion, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 15 will also take part.

Riegle To Preside The program will open with the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" after which the regular service will be opened by James R. Riegle, exalted ruler; Mr. Dunn, leading knight; Kenneth R. Dengler, loyal knight; C. David McCullough, lecturing knight, and William C. Kuhn, chaplain.

The "History of the Flag" will be given by John D. Lippy Jr. Fred G. Pfeiffer will be in charge of the exchange of the Elks memorial flag from the color guard of the Lentz Post to the color guard of the VFW Post-15.

Following a brief "Tribute to the Flag" by Mr. Riegle, the response will be given by Mr. Pfeiffer. Other members of the lodge Flag Day committee will serve as follows: Martin Slade, in charge of the flags; William Dillman and Donald Hubbard color bearers, and Michael Tate, usher.

Plan Church School Recognition Sunday

Children's Day on Sunday will be Church School Recognition Sunday at the Presbyterian Church.

At 9:45 o'clock the Church School departments will hold "open house." Parents and interested friends are invited to come and get an "inside look" at the Church School. Activities and project work will be displayed and parent-teacher magazines will be distributed.

In a service of worship following the open house, the Church School will present a program growing out of the work done in the school during the year at 10:45 o'clock in the church sanctuary. The theme of study throughout the year has been "The Bible." The theme for next year will be "The Church."

Participating in the service will be children and young people of the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary, Junior, Junior High and Senior High departments.

TRADE CHARGES OF "SMEARING"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Lehman (D. Lib.-N.Y.), accusing each other of "smear" tactics, stood today on their contentions that each has abused the Senate's free mailing privilege.

McCarthy touched off the dispute in a Senate speech yesterday. He attributed to Lehman "a rather gross abuse" of the franking privilege, by saying Lehman mailed or tried to mail at the taxpayers' expense 100,000 pieces of literature captioned "Creeping McCarthyism."

Lehman called that a "tissue of fabrications" and fired back a statement that "only last year the Post Office Department was trying to collect from Sen. McCarthy a sum of money for mailing, under his franking privilege, a considerable number of commercial advertisements for a book he wrote."

Last October the Post Office said it was trying to figure how much to charge McCarthy for mail it said he sent free and should have paid for. No change in this status has been reported since the Republicans took office in January.

In his attack on Lehman, McCarthy argued the Post Office Department deficit would not be as high as it is if members of Congress were "a bit more careful about abusing the privilege of the frank."

WEDDING WISH

They reached the altar, youth and maid.
They left the altar, man and wife.
United by the vow they'd made
To share the joys and griefs of life.

Friends thronged the large reception room,
Where merry was the music played,
Bride beautiful and smiling groom!
Both of the future unafraid.

And some of us, with temples gray,
Who'd had our share of hurt and tears
Stood watching as they drove away
And wished them courage for the years.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE BEAUTY OF MEMORIES

When all else is gone, we have our memories! and that means a great deal remains.

A friend once asked me to write an article about the little town in which I lived as a boy. I was glad to comply. Perhaps our happiest days date back to the small-town days when everything was in a formative stage. The old town pump, the one policeman — "marsh," we called him, the village blacksmith, the three or four "preachers' sons" (of which I was one), the one drugstore that always had such a fascinating odor, the school house upon the hill, the grist mill, with its stream of water in which we used to swim.

The rain barrel that stood at the edge of the house in which we wandered at the little wiggling animals, the stream that ran through the town in which we used to fish, the one big store that carried hardware, notions, books and housed the post office in the bargain.

Then there were the many memories that clustered about the church "socials," and the church. I distinctly remember the farmer whose shoes always squeaked as he walked down the church aisle. And he looked so strange to me in a white collar and his "Sunday best."

Memories! How unlucky the boy who has never known the memories of the small town!

Ordinarily the pulling of one's first tooth is no event at all. But it was in our little town. The dentist had an office on the street floor, near the sidewalk, and when I had my first tooth pulled my pals insisted on seeing that a good job was done — so they stood out in front that they might see the entire operation. It was accomplished with neatness and dispatch! Did it hurt? No!

I remember the beauty of my mother's hands, her exquisite smile, her gentle manner. To honor that memory is the greatest joy that belongs to me.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Your Body and Health."

SPARKMAN SAYS FARM AID NOT CLAIMED BY IKE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today aid to the nation's farmers is "noticeably missing" among accomplishments President Eisenhower is claiming for the GOP on a current speaking tour.

Sparkman, the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said in an interview he hopes for the good of the country that Eisenhower has a successful four years in office. "But I wish the President were in a position to include something for the farmers in the accomplishments he is claiming for his administration," the Alabama senator said.

Noticeably Missing

"That is noticeably missing at a time when the farm economy is depressed and the farmers need help."

In a series of speeches in North and South Dakota yesterday, Eisenhower claimed his administration had made a good beginning toward 10 specified goals, ranging from action to strengthen the free world to steps aimed at "equal civil rights to all our citizens."

Eisenhower did claim that cattle prices show signs of stabilizing and that a higher price had been negotiated in the international wheat agreement. And he said his administration is seeking to work out a program to assure farmers "a good, stable income . . . without regimenting the farm families of America."

Sparkman contended that most of Eisenhower's points represented only a continuation of what already was under way during the previous Democratic administration.

General Electric Offers Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP)—The General Electric Co. has offered its quarter of a million employees across the nation a pay increase of slightly more than three per cent.

The company offer was made Wednesday to its two largest unions, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and the United Electrical Workers (UE), an independent. The IUE represents about 76,000 GE workers, the UE some 50,000.

James B. Carey, IUE president, told newsmen the company plan, including other benefits, "looks like the basis for a settlement."

Carey said the union's conference board will vote on the offer next Tuesday.

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio says more the 25,500 women now work for railroads in Communist China with jobs ranging from train dispatchers to locomotive engineers. The Red broadcast quoting the Railway Workers Trade Union of China said the number of women rail workers had doubled since 1950.

In Missouri and two in Memphis, Tenn., where yesterday it was 103, a record for the third straight day. Sixteen others persons were stricken in Memphis.

Temperatures reached 100 or higher again yesterday over most of Kansas with Hill City and Russell sweltering in readings of 106. Near 100 degree temperatures also were reported in other areas hit by the unseasonal hot weather.

The hot air headed northeastward into North Central regions. Readings were around seasonal levels in most of Eastern half of the country and in the West except in the Southwest desert region where temperatures were 100 and higher.

Thundershowers hit western sections of Nebraska and South Dakota early today. Heaviest rainfall, with some hail, was nearly two inches at Philip, S. D. Light showers were reported in Northern Michigan, Southern Illinois, in New Mexico, the Central Gulf states and the Pacific Northwest.

House Members Leave When Hotels Refuse Them Rooms

HARRISBURG (AP)—Taxes and a hotel room shortage may seem poles apart as legislative issues but they've become bedfellows today in the 1953 Legislature.

This anomalous situation is compounding politics and procrastination into a broth of tax confusion. It reached a point last night where rebellious lawmakers, wearied by three consecutive day and night sessions, simply walked out on a planned showdown vote on a 97 million dollar tax package devised as a substitute for the defeated sales tax.

House members packed their bags and went home rather than face a fourth night of long tax roll calls. They couldn't sleep in Harrisburg because hotels refused to break previous commitments for convention accommodations. Less than 75 members were in their seats for the scheduled roll calls on the four-part tax package. The straw that broke the patience of most of the lawmakers was a Democratic caucus which lasted for two hours after being scheduled for only a half hour.

The exodus took the leadership by surprise.
Had No Quorum
"Look at it," said Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, in pointing to row upon row of vacant desks. "We can't vote on taxes now. There simply aren't enough members here."

A contributing factor to the walk-out, besides the hotel room shortage which forced the House to adjourn until June 22, was a lack of enthusiasm for the tax package. The program and estimated revenue includes:

A 1 per cent tax on the income of unincorporated businesses and professions (35 millions).
Increasing the four cents a pack cigarette tax to five cents (22 millions).
Reviving the cent a bottle soft drinks tax abandoned in 1951 (29 millions).
Imposing a state tax for the first time on cigars and smoking tobacco at federal rates (11 millions).
Smith said the program may come to a vote June 24, since only token sessions are planned on Monday and Tuesday of that week.

But even enactment of this package—and its prospects are slim—would raise only 97 millions of the 118 millions which Gov. John S. Fine contends is needed to balance the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget for the current biennium. Hopes for a July 2 adjournment faded with the postponement of the tax package vote last night and defeat of the 1 per cent sales tax on Wednesday.

Although the Senate will be in session next week, the House will not—and it's in the House where all tax measures must originate. It's doubtful that the lower branch can patch together a tax program in the two weeks after they reconvene.

Fine, commenting on the rejection of the sales tax, described as "deplorable" the opposition of a dozen House Republicans to the 172 million dollar measure.

"Once again, the Legislature unfortunately has refused approval of a broad base tax to extricate the commonwealth from its fiscal dilemma," he said.

"I regret the defection of a few Republican members of the House who aligned themselves with the solid Democratic opposition. The latter were complying with their

Milwaukee Braves Have 6-Game Series With Pittsburgh Coming As Dodgers Gain; Yanks Win 14th

AP Sports writer Milwaukee's battling Braves open the season's first six game series tonight in Pittsburgh with a good chance of putting a little daylight between themselves and the enervating Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Braves, nearing the end of a profitable road trip on which they have won 11 out of 16, hold a 2-0 season's edge over the seventh place Pirates.

Only six percentage points separate Charley Grimm's men from the pesky Dodgers whose week-end opposition isn't exactly terrifying, either. Brooklyn plays last place Chicago four times. The Dodgers have split a previous pair with the Cubs.

Yanks Visit Cleveland
The big American League series starting tonight is at Cleveland where the New York Yankees face the Indians in the first of four.

The Yanks won their 14th in a row yesterday, 6-3, at Detroit. Cleveland lost for the first time in eight games, 2-1, to Washington. Philadelphia edged Chicago, 6-5, and Boston ran the St. Louis Browns' losing streak to 10 with a 7-0 decision.

Yanks Lead Is 6½ Games
The high flying Yankees now lead Cleveland by 6½ games — their greatest first place margin in the five years Casey Stengel has managed them. Home runs by Gene Woodling, Mickey Mantle and Irv Noren settled all doubts as to the outcome of the game in Detroit.

Wait Masterson stopped the Indians on three singles. Ed FitzGerald drove in the winning runs with a bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Gus Zernial, the leading home run slugger in the American League, hit a pair at Chicago, raising his total to 15. But it took a bases-empty blast by Eddie Robinson in the ninth inning to give Philadelphia the victory.

Willard Nixon of the Red Sox pitched perfect ball against the Browns until Virgil Trucks doubled with two out in the sixth. St. Louis got only three other hits, all singles.

Homers For Hodges, Gilliam
Trailing 6-3 the Dodgers finally caught up with Bud Podbielan in the eighth inning at Brooklyn, pounding him for six runs before Rogers Hornsby yanked him. Podbielan allowed 17 hits. The big blows in the rally were home runs by Gil Hodges with the bases empty and Junior Gilliam, with two on.

Jim Wilson of the Braves threw three home run balls at the Polo Grounds — one each to Monte Irvin, Whitey Lockman and Hank Thompson.

The Cardinals got a lot of mileage out of four hits at Pittsburgh. They scored three runs on just one safety—a single by Ray Jablonski following four walks.

KRALY BEATEN IN BID TO WIN 11TH STRAIGHT

By The Associated Press

Defeat finally came to Steve Kraly, but it took the Albany Senators 11 innings to do it.

The Binghamton left hander, shooting for his 11th straight Eastern League victory, was nipped, 5-3, last night after he was plagued by his own wildness and a shoddy defense.

The loss dropped Binghamton to a full game behind the Reading Indians, who outslugged Wilkes-Barre, 9-7.

In other games, Williamsport snapped Scranton's five-game winning streak, 5-0, and two Elmira home runs set back Schenectady, 2-1.

Kraly, usually a control specialist, didn't have it last night. He walked six, hit one batter, and threw a wild pitch that let in a run. Two Binghamton errors and a costly fielding lapse in the 11th inning also hurt his cause.

Outfielder Jack Caffie, who joined Reading this week, was the big man in the Reading attack. He drove in four runs with three hits, including a homer.

Lefty Joe Murray, aided by three double plays started by shortstop Hector Lopez, blanked Scranton with a nine-inning victory. The victory moved the Athletics a game behind the Miners in the battle for seventh place.

Schenectady's Tom Casagrande, a Philadelphia Phillies' bonus pitcher, gave up only four hits, but two were home runs by Eddie Moore and Clyde McNeal. That was too much, since the Blue Jays could score only one run on 10 hits off Art Ceccarelli.

Sports In Brief

Washington—Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore defeated Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., in 37 holes to win the Eastern Amateur Championship.

Greensboro, N. C.—Kathy McKinnon of Florida Southern and Pat Lesser of Seattle University entered the semi-finals of the Women's National Intercollegiate Tournament by defeating Virginia Denney of Northwestern, 3 and 2, and Donna Knox of Rollins, 5 and 3, respectively.

BASEBALL

Washington — The Washington Senators bought pitcher Tommy Byrne from the Chicago White Sox for an undisclosed amount.

TENNIS

Bristol—England's Angela Mortimer upset Shirley Fry, Akron, O., 7-5, 6-2, in the semifinals of the West of England Championships.

RACING

Boston—Tony DeSpirito rode five consecutive winners at Suffolk Downs, including No. 88 ($8.80) in the feature race.

New York—Jockey Ted Atkinson booted home three straight winners, including Powhatan ($6.30) in the Bracdale Handicap at Belmont Park.

Stanton, Del. — Common Cause ($9.30) won his first start of the 1953 season in the Your Host Purse at Delaware Park.

Seven More Entries For Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (P)—Seven horses, including three surprise entries, were named today to go against Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer in the $100,000 Belmont Stakes at Belmont tomorrow.

If all eight start in the mile and a half grind, third jewel in racing's triple crown, it will be the richest Belmont ever with a gross value of $120,600.

The unexpected entries were bandleader Louis Prima's The Preem, A. J. Fralinger's Bob O'Boy, and Ogden Phipps' Bassanio.

As expected the other five entered were the Dancer, Seeking his 14th victory in 15 races; Jim Norris' Jamie K, second to the Dancer in the Preknack; Eugene Constantine Jr.'s Royal Bay Gem; Bruce Campbell's Ram O'War, and King Ranch's Kamehameha.

A wide smile is spread across the face of Ben Hogan three-time winner of the National Open Golf Championship, as he displays his card at the end of his five-under-par 67 round during first-day play in the tourney. Hogan, wearing a sweater under which ointment was spread over his aching back, grabbed the first round lead in the 53rd annual competition being played at Oakmont, Pa.

HOGAN GOES 5 UNDER PAR TO CAPTURE LEAD

OAKMONT, Pa. (P)—They called it "Hogan's Open" before it started — this 53rd United States Open Golf Championship—and the script is unchanged.

It was Ben Hogan and the awe-inspiring Oakmont course in the forecasts. Today it was Hogan in the lead—Hogan against the field. And Oakmont still dared all but the great golfers to challenge par on its wide-stretched fairways and big, wavy greens.

Hogan's place among golf's great players hardly can be challenged after his performance yesterday. The record first day crowd of 8,000 showed little surprise when the smiling, chain-smoking Texan methodically fashioned one of the finest rounds ever played over the famous course in the hills bordering the Allegheny River.

Three-Stroke Edge

The score of 33-34-67 was five strokes under Oakmont's par of 37-35-72 and one over the record established by Jimmy Clark in Wednesday's qualifying round.

That score put Hogan three strokes ahead of his closest pursuers in the field of 157. Among the tournament toughened stars who had been expected to challenge him, the scores ran like this:

Jimmy Demaret 71, Sam Snead 72, Lloyd Mangrum and Marty Furgol 73, Doug Ford, Johnny Bulla and Fred Haas 74, defending champion Julius Boros and PGA champion Jim Turnesa 75, Cary Middlecoff and Jackie Burke 76 and Bobby Locke and Lew Worsham way up at 78.

Three Dark Horses

Closest to Ben after the first day were three players who never figured in the advance dope and who aren't likely to stay up there long.

They were George Fazio of Clementon, N. J., another wiry little man, 41 years old, who hit his peak when he tied Ben at Merion in 1950 and lost out in a playoff; Walter Burkemo, age 34, of Franklin, Mich., whose best tournament performance came when he was finalist against Snead in the 1951 PGA championship, and amateur Frank Souchak, 38, a former Pitt and Steelers football star who belongs to the Oakmont club.

They all had 70's during a day which saw Oakmont's par damaged more severely than ever before in a major medal-play tournament.

Tied with Demaret, the three-time Masters champion, at 71 was Bill Ogden, a bespectacled 27-year-old assistant pro from Glenview, Ill.

In the par 72 bracket with Snead were Jay Hebert of Erie, Pa., former assistant to Worsham at Oakmont and victim of yesterday's biggest blow-up; and two more little guys, Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., and Lou Barbaro of Deal, N. J.

CUCKOOS BRING ARRESTS

SYDNEY (P)—Customs men at Sydney's Circular Quay heard "Cuckoo, Cuckoo" as two men passed. Very strange for Sydney in autumn, they thought.

They looked closer, found the cuckoos were in clocks which the men had under their coats.

The Customs Department now has two cuckoo clocks in custody.

POWS TURN FARMERS

SEOUL (P)—Communist prisoners of war will be raising their own food this spring and the Eighth Army expects the prison camps to be relatively self-sufficient. Prisoners will raise Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn, barley, soy beans and red beans under the supervision of armed Allied guards, the Army said.

JAYCEES WILL MEET

LEGION WOMEN TO SEND MORE GIFTS TO KOREA

The Child Welfare chairman, Mrs. Charles Marker, reported to the members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, at their June meeting on Wednesday evening at the post home, that the package of mittens and sweaters which the Auxiliary had sent to Korea some time ago was received by a priest who is in charge of a small boys' school there. The priest wrote a letter of thanks immediately upon receipt of the package, and then a second letter enclosing a picture taken when the children were opening the package. Mrs. Marker identified both the package and some of the contents.

The unit has decided to collect mittens and sweaters again during the summer months and at the first fall meeting in September, Mrs. Marker will receive the items collected and send a second package to the school in Korea.

It was announced that the Auxiliary has both a hospital bed and a wheel chair available at present. It was also announced that there will be graduation exercises at Scotland School on Saturday of this week; the local unit has an adopted boy at the school.

Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz, legislative chairman, reported that letters had been written by members to their congressman objecting to the bill introduced in Congress to cut the veterans' appropriation. The unit is also awaiting word from the State Department regarding the Universal Military Training or the National Security Training Corps Act.

Mrs. Vernon Study, Pan American chairman, reported that she entered a contest sponsored by the council and the state department on the Pan American Study sponsored by the unit this year. Prizes will be trophies and cash awards for winners to be announced at the state convention in Pittsburgh in July. Mrs. Study was assisted by Mrs. Elmer W. Gail in the contest.

Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz, delegate to the joint County Council meeting in Waynesboro on Friday, gave a detailed report on the proceedings there.

Program On Flag

At the conclusion of the business session, which was conducted by President Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr., Mrs. Miller gave a brief history of the flag and its 176th anniversary, from the standpoint of American Legion and Auxiliary service. Mrs. Elmer W. Gail read a poem "God Bless Our Flag" and Mrs. Study a poem "A Prayer." Several candidates on the slate of officers for the annual convention are women known to the members of the local unit. They include Anna E. Buchart, Camp Hill Unit 43, and Mrs. Walter S. Metz, Burt J. Asper Unit 46, Chambersburg, for central vice president, and Mrs. Ray S. Wilson, Harrisburg, for executive secretary-treasurer.

It was reported that the unit has met all the department obligations during the past year's work which includes donations to rehabilitation, child welfare, Scotland school fund, junior baseball, national security, scholarship, advertisement in the Annual and special rehabilitation. They also devoted a certain amount of the program and study time to Americanism and have constantly collected coupons as a fund raising project for department work.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting by Mrs. Albert H. Miller Jr., Mrs. Wilbur E. Mackley and Mrs. Vernon Study, hostesses for the evening. Decorations and refreshments followed a patriotic theme, in keeping with Flag Day. There will be no meetings during July and August. The group will meet again on Wednesday, September 9.

ASKS SLASH OF $33,450,000 IN POSTAL FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) asked the Senate to lop $33,450,000 off funds for postal operations in the coming year.

His amendment was offered to a House-passed bill carrying $3,444,145,000 to run the Treasury and Post Office Departments in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

Douglas told the Senate Wednesday he was "grievously disappointed" with the measure and two Republican senators, Williams of Delaware and Dworshak of Idaho, also said they had hoped for deeper cuts.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), handling the bill for the Senate Appropriations Committee, said it had been pared 3½ per cent under the budget estimates of former President Truman.

Approved Without Change

The House bill was approved without change by the Senate committee. Capitol veterans were unable to recall when, if ever, this had happened before.

The bill allocated $2,229,450,000 to the Post Office Department for postal operations.

"The Post Office is notorious for its inefficiencies and we should force improvements," Douglas said. Among other things, he suggested consolidation of rural mail routes and "more letter carriers on bicycles and tricycles."

Dworshak and Williams turned critical eyes on 22 million dollars for general administration—the exact amount voted for the current year.

McCarthy said this item was two millions less than Truman had recommended, and that increasing population adds to the department's workload.

FREED OF MANSLAUGHTER

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—Hamilton S. Gregg, Belle Mead, N. J., book salesman, was acquitted yesterday by a Northampton County jury of involuntary manslaughter.

An auto Gregg was driving last September collided with another car on a rural road near here, killing Clifford Wanamaker and his wife, Ida, of Bethlehem, and Mrs. Eva Geist of Allentown.

K. C. Adams, UMW Journal Editor, Quits

WASHINGTON (AP)—K. C. Adams, colorful editor of the United Mine Workers' Union "Journal," retired today after 40 years with the union.

Adams, native of Holly Springs, Miss., has been a close friend and public relations adviser to John L. Lewis, the union's president. For the past several years, Adams has been editing the union's publication from his home at Daytona Beach, Fla.

"Casey," as he is widely known in labor circles and among newsmen, filled the journal with salty and often critical phrases. One of his favorites was "burrocrat" to describe a government official.

Says Ship Changed Its Course Twice

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Had the tanker Phoenix not changed course a second time, there would have been no collision with the Pan Massachusetts tanker Pan Massachusetts testified yesterday.

The two vessels collided and burst into flames Saturday in the Delaware River about 10 miles below Wilmington, Del. Four men were killed.

The witness, Hans Becker, told a U. S. Coast Guard board of inquiry that the outbound Phoenix swerved to the right and then immediately swung left.

Cmdr. R. Y. Edwards, a member of the board asked: "If she had remained on her first course would your vessels have cleared?"

"Yes, I think they would have cleared," replied Becker, third mate aboard the Pan Massachusetts.

Union Policy Makers Hold Key In Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Steel union policy makers held the key today in pay bargaining with U. S. Steel Corp. amid heightened speculation an agreement may be near which could set the pattern for the nation's basic steel industry.

The CIO United Steelworkers' 36-man executive board and its 170-man Wage Policy Committee were summoned here by President David J. McDonald. These groups have the power to reject or approve any wage offer.

There are unconfirmed reports Big Steel has offered an 8 to 10 cent an hour hike for men averaging $2.06 to $2.16 an hour.

USW officials have not revealed how much they are after for the 600,000 workers in basic steel. U.S. Steel employs about 170,000 USW members.

FORMER STAR DIES

YORK, Pa. (AP)—A 56-year-old leader in Republican politics and a prominent local sports figure, Nevin D. Fahs, died last night of a heart attack while eating in a hotel restaurant.

An examiner for the State Department of Revenue, Fahs was a noted baseball and basketball player a quarter of a century ago. He later became a leading basketball official in Central Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gaylord P. Harnwell, atomic physicist, has been formally elected president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Nominated to the post last month, Harnwell's formal appointment Wednesday complied with Penn bylaws prescribing that at least 10 days must elapse between nomination and election of a president.

Dr. Harnwell, who succeeds Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen, will resign his post as head of the university's Physics Department when he takes office July 1.

COURT AGAIN TURNS DOWN ROSENBERGS

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals again has denied a new trial or stay of execution to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, condemned atom spies.

The appeals court rendered its decision yesterday after hearing arguments by defense counsel on Tuesday.

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die June 18 in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y.

Their last hope for a stay of execution now rests with the U. S. Supreme Court, which previously refused a stay.

4,000 At Rally

Late yesterday, about 4,000 persons attended a rally in Union Square in behalf of the doomed pair.

Mrs. Sophie Rosenberg asked the crowd to pray for her son and daughter-in-law, adding: "I know they are innocent."

The rally was sponsored by "The Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case." The committee sponsors include some persons prominent in organizations cited as subversive by the Attorney General's office.

Emily Alman, executive secretary of the committee, said a demonstration in the Rosenbergs' behalf will be staged Sunday afternoon in front of the White House in Washington.

MORE SLASHES IN U. S. BUDGET ARE PREDICTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—With nine per cent already lopped off President Eisenhower's pared-down foreign aid budget, a House Appropriations Committee member predicted today "much sharper slashes" will be made.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee yesterday voted 18-5 to approve $4,998,732,500 for overseas aid in the year beginning July 1. This was 476 million dollars less than the President's pruned down requests and about 35 per cent less than recommended by former President Truman.

The committee vote only established a ceiling for the actual appropriations, which must be approved later.

Plan "Deep" Cuts

Rep. Glenn R. Davis (R-Wis.), a member of the House appropriations subcommittee concerned with foreign aid, said his group is talking of deeper slashes and will study the bill "very carefully."

The House Foreign Affairs Committee authorization of $4,998,732,500—which compares with $5,312,732,500 approved earlier by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—is expected to reach the House floor sometime after the middle of the week.

The House committee also voted, against the President's implied views, to withdraw more than one billion dollars of new funds earmarked for European military aid unless the six-nation European Defense Community is formed.

Rep. Richards (D-SC), author of the amendment, said he hoped it would spur European parliaments into ratifying the treaty to set up an international army. Only West Germany has approved this treaty.

The amendment, approved by a 2-1 majority, would earmark one half of European military aid for the European Defense Community. Congress appropriated $6,031,000,000 for foreign aid last year, after cutting Truman's request by 25 per cent.

Eisenhower sliced more than two billion dollars from the $7,600,000,000 Truman budget in two successive cuts this time. Eisenhower was described as "pleading" with House committee leaders, at a conference Tuesday, to get them to prevent further slashes.

It was felt in some quarters that this personal appeal by Eisenhower dissuaded some members who had talked of big scale reductions.

Secretary Of Defense Wilson Makes Job Hard For Himself

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles E. Wilson has made his job as secretary of defense tougher on himself by the way he has handled his public relations. He had difficulty when he started and he's still having it.

When he first arrived here to take over the secretaryship he had a hassle with the senators over his General Motors stock. He didn't want to sell it. It was made pretty clear he couldn't become secretary unless he did.

He finally decided to sell. It was a decision he could have made before accepting the secretaryship from President Eisenhower. By his delay in making up his mind he got a lot of publicity, not all of it favorable.

Trouble With Air Force

His greatest decision since becoming secretary was in cutting money for the armed forces, and reducing the number of wings planned for the Air Force. This aroused concern in Congress and among the public.

If Wilson had tackled this situation head-on, by anticipating the reaction to his reduction program and preparing a full and clear presentation of his views, he again might have avoided headaches. But he didn't.

Wilson's explanations for his cut in military spending have been coming out piecemeal. He has run into public conflict within his own Defense Department. For instance, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, was critical of Wilson's reductions.

The story isn't ended yet. Yesterday Wilson replied to a number of questions sent him in writing by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Maine Republican—questions he did not answer to her satisfaction when he appeared before her and other senators a couple of weeks ago.

Could Have Saved Trouble

In the end Wilson may be proved right and Vandenberg wrong. But Wilson could have saved himself a lot of time, concern and quizzing by stating his position more fully in the beginning.

When Wilson was president of General Motors there was always a public relations staff around to help him. It could act, in fact, as a buffer between him and the public.

Since G. M. is a corporation, Wilson didn't have to endure public quizzing on its operations. Although he was answerable to the stockholders, his decisions affecting the long-range success of G. M. could be discussed in the privacy of his office with the Board of Directors.

His position is slightly reversed as secretary of defense. Now, when he makes a major decision, such as money reductions for the armed forces, he must face a public quizzing before he can put his decision into effect. All the citizens are stockholders in the government.

He knew, when accepting the secretaryship, that he would have to answer some questions by the Senate committee whose job was to recommend for or against his getting the Cabinet post.

He should have known—if he had sought the advice of G. M.'s lawyers and public relations men—that he would be questioned on whether he had stock in G. M. He was later asked if he had sought such advice but declined comment.

The reason he should have known is this: G. M. holds the most government defense contracts. As secretary of defense, Wilson might be called upon to make decisions giving G. M. more contracts.

Which at once raised the question: Should a high government official award contracts to a firm in which he has a couple of million dollars worth of stock?

He said yes. And his confirmation hung in the balance. He wasn't confirmed as secretary until he went back and told the senators he would sell his stock.

OPPOSE CHANGES IN ADOPTION ACT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine's Committee on Children and Youth was today "unilaterally opposed" to a Senate amendment to a proposed law regulating child adoption agencies.

The bill was amended Tuesday to exempt agencies conducted by religious groups from having their adoption practices approved by the Welfare Department unless the agencies requested approval.

"We are unalterably opposed to the latest amendment to Senate Bill 480 which proposes to exempt from one of the important safeguards in the bill all adoption placements made by agencies or institutions conducted by religious groups," said Geoffrey S. Smith, committee chairman.

The proposed bill was also altered to exempt persons receiving children for adoption from church agencies from reporting the placement to the court required to investigate the placement. It is this exemption that Smith's group opposes.

THE BASIS OF CHRISTIAN LIBERTY

Galatians 2:1-10; 19-21

Memory Verse: In Christ you are all sons of God through faith. Gal. 3:26

The early years of Christianity were full of conflicts. One was the conflict with many practices of paganism that did not harmonize with the ways of the Christian life. Even generations before the Christian period began this struggle had been going on. All through the long years during which God was preparing the Hebrews for their task as religious leaders there was conflict between opposing forces. Reaching Canaan did not end the conflict.

Then came Christ. His devoted followers in their effort to spread the Gospel encountered numerous difficulties. One disturbing question was whether non-Jews had to adopt certain Jewish practices before they could become Christians. Circumcision was one of these practices. But there were others, for through the years many rituals and laws had been adopted. By many they were held sacred. In Christ's time the Pharisees considered themselves the custodians of these regulations. The Gospel had to have a freer course and different atmosphere to work out the plan God had for His people.

It was Jesus who showed the way out of this bondage and maze of unessential rites. The essentials He observed. He honored the Mosaic law; He attended worship in the synagogue; He went to the great festivals at Jerusalem. In these and other acts He held to many of the Jewish customs. He even said He was sent to the Jews first. This was understandable for God Himself had chosen the Jews to carry forward His plan for His people's salvation. But Jesus did not confine himself to the Jews, not to the generally accepted persons. His disciples found Him in earnest conversation with a Samaritan woman. He ate in the house avoided by the Pharisees. He brushed aside racial and social barriers. He expected the joy and benefit of His Gospel to flow freely among all kinds and conditions of men. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son" He held His hearers. And His last command while still with His disciples in the body was "Go ye into all the world." Jesus brought to the world a universal Gospel. It required considerable time for His friends to recognize this aspect of His teaching and His acts, which seemed strange. But it seems the experience of Pentecost was required to bring home to them that they were a part of a worldwide movement.

But when Peter and Paul and others went out fired with this new Gospel they collided with man-made laws. Receive into the church men who have not been circumcised? Men who are not familiar with the Jewish code? Paul found the question so disturbing that he wrote a letter to the Galatians. In it he thoroughly discussed the problem. He hadn't been in Jerusalem for fourteen years. (Furloughs for the early missionaries were infrequent, it seems.) But now he felt that he should have the approval of the church leaders for the way he treated this Gentile-Christian problem. The conference was attended by five men, James, Peter and John among them. The conclusion was that Paul and Barnabas should continue their work among the Gentiles. One provision was added: that the poor in the Jerusalem Church should be remembered by the wealthier members in other congregations. Paul responded: "Which very thing I was eager to do."

If ceremony and law do not bring the desired higher liberty, how can we obtain it? By faith in God through Christ, and an earnest desire to know His will and obey it. That condition of heart and mind is bestowed by the grace of God upon all sincere believers. Whatever regulations and laws are required in an orderly communion of believers will be gladly obeyed. The basis for Christian liberty is laid in Christ Jesus.

YOUR TIME IS GOD'S TIME

When asked to prepare a statement concerning the proper use of time, a group of young people came up with these words: "Your time is God's time."

Grown-ups may well heed this truth.

One's time is really not one's own. Even though budgeted to include only such things as business, golf, gardening, travel or what not, it is still God's time.

And when we fail to include in our time budget a few hours for the Church and its constructive program, then the One from whom we get all the time we have is being ignored and we are losing priceless returns.

Time given to the Church and the enterprises for which it stands is an investment that pays dividends for all the other worthwhile things we have to do.

Try it. Take an interest in some Church—in the Bible—in an activity on the high level of service to others—and see how much more productive all of your time will be.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Heart Of Our Nation Always Beats In The Home

By Leighton C. Taylor

for making the America of tomorrow.

An Army chaplain, just back from the other side of the world, where what we think of as a crusade for decency is being waged, is cruelly disillusioned about the unbelievably high percentage of those who, by their own conduct, deny the very deencies for which they are supposed to be risking their lives. This being true, the question naturally arises: Out of what kind of American homes have these young Americans come?

Question TV Programs
One ominous fact is clear: Modern inventions, particularly the radio and television, notwithstanding their potentialities for good, have devastating possibilities, spiritually and morally, when allowed to enter the home, free of discrimination as to the character of programs and entertainment.

As we frankly face present day conditions we are driven to ask whether the training and discipline practiced in the average American family is of the character-building type that prevailed in what is now usually tagged as "The Old-fashioned Home."

A Harvard expert on social trends declares: "At the present rate of demoralization, if left alone, the family system will break up before the end of the century."

"No Substitute"
We may boast all we please of our modern civilization, but all the way from the primitive log cabin to the modern mansion and skyscraper, THERE CAN NEVER BE A SUBSTITUTE FOR GOD-FEARING PARENTS TO PASS ON THE FLAMING TORCH.

Our civilization cannot be saved by politicians, however sincere, but by mothers and fathers. There can be no recovery of national safety until we recover the highest ideals and best traditions of family life. The government can do much, and will do much, to improve living standards. The schools can do much and will do more to strengthen the moral fibre of those who fill the classrooms, but the foundation stones upon which all other agencies must build are hewn in the quarry of the home.

As an example of the current trend in home and family life, the following is quoted from a recent church publication:

"A minister remarked to a modern mother, 'We have missed Jane in church lately.' The mother replied: 'You don't have any idea how many things these children have to do. For her own good Jane had to drop something.' And so in a secular home where there was no altar, that SOMETHING dropped was the place where character might be molded. Who can blame that minister for saying as he referred to that case: 'That mother wants Jane to be—Well, what does she want Jane to be? Does she want her to be without any real understanding of the business of living as God her Creator purposes it and knows it? Or is she content to have Jane be the kind of person who gets her morals from Hollywood, and her understanding of life from the slick-paper magazines and the cornering "Give us unification" and "March north!"

About 400 girls visited the correspondents' billets where they sang, shouted slogans and broke into loud crying on signal from their leaders.

The marching girls passed out leaflets to Allied soldiers which read:

"We are dead against any truce without unification. Give us unification or death. Do not hand us over to the Communists. Set anti-Communist prisoners of war free."

Korean Vets Protest
In Pusan, shots were fired in the air in front of a U. S. Army Engineers unit near the British legation compound, but no one was injured and their origin was not known, the U. S. Army Provost Marshal's office said.

In front of the American Embassy in Pusan, a sitdown and hunger strike by about 300 crippled and wounded South Korean veterans continued Friday.

The veterans—including amputees in wheelchairs—began the demonstration Thursday night and insisted it would continue until they receive answers to messages given embassy officials for delivery.

of-the-mouth gossip of her companions at social functions.
Obedience And Reverence

Summing up what I have been trying to say: Of all the dangers which threaten the security of our national life, the very greatest, in the writer's opinion, is the growing dissolution of the American home under the disintegrating influence of modern conditions. We know there are more houses in America today than ever before, and the number is ever increasing. But we know, too, there are fewer homes like those of which Payne, Burns, and Byron sang, and in which were taught and practiced the simple virtues of obedience, reverence, and modesty. Of such virtues must be built the manhood and womanhood of any nation that would endure.

Let us remember that however sound its economic status, however impregnable its defenses, however stable its finances, no government has ever been or ever will be stronger than its social structure and the moral fibre of its citizens, and upon its homes must rest this structure, and in them must be woven this fabric.

Finally, unless there be a renaissance of the "OLD - FASHIONED HOME" with its "GOD BLESS OUR HOME" motto and its disciplined idealism, the American family system, in the words of the Harvard expert, may well "break up before the end of the century."

"To make a happy fireside climate To weans and wife,— That's the true pathos and sublime

Of human life." (Burns)

ery to President Eisenhower. Contents of the messages were not made public.

President Rhee returned to Seoul after a trip to a southern airfield where he presented the 1st Marine Air Wing with a second South Korean presidential unit citation.

He spoke briefly, praising the Marine fliers for "fighting side by side with us in defense against a common enemy," but made no mention of the truce situation.

While there, he met with the chairman - designate of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arthur Radford; U. S. Ambassador to Korea, Ellis O. Briggs; former U. S. Ambassador to Russia William Bullitt; Vice Adm. Robert Briscoe, commander of Far East naval forces, and Vice Adm. J. J. Clark, U. S. Seventh Fleet commander.

Threat Reported
At the Seoul airport, Rhee was so heavily guarded that newsmen were unable to approach him. Briggs, who returned with him, refused comment on the armistice.

Government officials said they knew nothing of a reported threat by U. N. officials to cut off military and economic aid to South Korea unless it accepts the truce.

South Korea's ambassador to the U. S., Dr. Yoo Chan Yang, made the charge in a speech last night at Philadelphia.

Dr. Yang said emphatically he referred to U. N. officials and not the United States. A U. S. State Department spokesman said the U. S. would not use famine and human suffering for political purposes.

Swiss May Serve
Gen. Mark Clark's Far East Command headquarters in Tokyo pointed to a previous denial of a similar report.

In Europe, Communist satellites Czechoslovakia and Poland announced they would serve on a five-nation commission to take custody of Korean war prisoners refusing repatriation.

Sweden earlier accepted a nomination to the commission. Switzerland first said it could not serve if South Korea objects to the armistice, but later gave a qualified acceptance.

India's Prime Minister Nehru said his country is prepared to serve, but would have to reconsider if South Korea breaks with the U. N. Command.

gested — starting plants in berry baskets and transplanting them to their growing sites later in cases where the site is not now available for planting.

Farmers and gardeners who are willing to control weeds and grass from competition may grow pumpkins profitably in idle fence rows. Here the soil is usually ideal for this vegetable and no fertilization is required. The vines may be trained along the fence horizontally and thus not overrun adjoining areas.

Mulching is an excellent way to eliminate cultivation labor where pumpkins are grown in fence rows or the open garden. The mulch conserves soil moisture at the same time and creates an ideal soil condition for the plant during dry, hot weather when it is making its maximum growth.

Rarely do insects bother pumpkins, although the plant is subject to the same pests common to cucumbers, squashes and cantaloupes. The squash bug (called "stink" bug) may be hand-picked or it may be trapped beneath short sections of board placed near the plants.

Promises Action On FEPC Legislation

HARRISBURG (AP)—The chairman of the House Labor Relations committee today promised that Fair Employment Practices Legislation would be acted on by his group "within 24 hours after the tax impasse has been solved."

Rep. Edward M. Young (R-Mercer) in making the statement denied that he intended blocking any consideration of the administration fair Employment Practices Commission bill.

"I personally intend to vote for the bill and will suggest to my colleagues that they also support the measure," Young said.

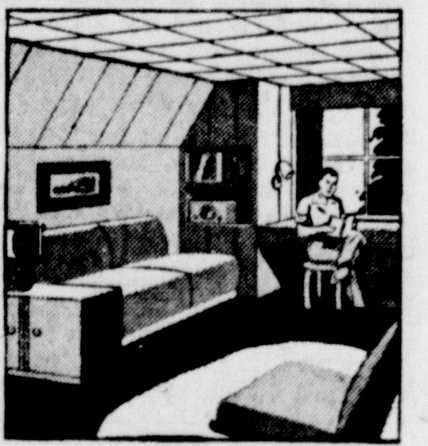

Young predicted that the FEPC proposal backed by Gov. John S. Fine would be passed by the House. A similar measure was passed by the House during the 1951 session, but was defeated in a Senate committee.
